340 dengue cases were reported in the week ending 4 Oct, 6 cases fewer than in the previous week. The number of dengue cases has been at about this level for the past few weeks and NEA advises all stakeholders to keep up efforts to prevent dengue cases from picking up again.

We need to continue removing stagnant water from our environment, so as to deprive the mosquitoes of their breeding habitats. Inverting pails and plant pot plates, changing water in vases regularly, and capping bamboo pole holders when they are not in use are simple steps that everyone can practice and make into a habit. Those infected with dengue should protect themselves from mosquito bites by applying repellent regularly, and those showing symptoms suggestive of dengue should see their GPs early to be diagnosed.

NEA encourages everyone to be an advocate and remind his family members and neighbours to join in the collective effort to help stop the dengue transmission cycle by doing the 5-step Mozzie Wipeout. All of us, including residents, contractors, and business owners, have a part to play in preventing dengue.
